

Signal echoes in the moving-background fit

Current dense solver | same smooth 2021 background | deterministic injections

A single positive injected peak can yield several fitted features

Subtracting the same background response isolates the echoes

Two injected peaks can reproduce a dip while overshooting the peaks

